STRATEGY PROFILE

The Sarasin & Partners AIM Service provides investors with a concentrated portfolio of 20-30 stocks listed on the AIM market. These are companies that are capable of generating sustained long term growth, usually driven by themes identified in our investment process. As with all Sarasin investment products we take an active approach, and ESG considerations are incorporated into fundamental and risk analysis.

All stocks are expected to qualify for Business Relief after being held for 2 years, and are checked by a third party before initial investment and annually thereafter.

The strategy seeks to generate a net total return in excess of the Benchmark.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

In Q4 2023 the AIM market delivered performance of +4.8%, whilst the Sarasin AIM strategy delivered performance of +9.7%. The Bank of England held interest rates at 5.25%, while inflation dropped from 6.2% in September to 4.2% in November which was taken positively by the market. The market now anticipates the first interest rate cut by the second half of 2024. Improving economic sentiment and the reduction of interest rates from their current, elevated levels should provide a more favourable backdrop for smaller companies moving forward. International investors are increasingly recognizing the value in UK smaller companies. According to Peel Hunt, 40 takeovers were announced across UK listed markets in 2023, at an average premium of 50%. Of note, over half of these were acquired by foreign buyers, and over three quarters involved small caps.

Positive contributors for the period were YouGov (+59%), Smart Metering Systems (+53%) and Renew +21%). Shares in Smart Metering Systems rose sharply in December following receipt of a cash bid from private equity firm KKR, at a 40% premium to the prevailing share price. YouGov recovered strongly on in-line results announced in October, alleviating concerns around organic growth. Renew delivered strong results in November, instilling confidence for the new government funding cycle in their key sectors.

Team17 (-30%), Argentex (-20%) and Alpha Group (-6%) were the most significant detractors. Team17 issues their first ever profit warning in November, citing underperformance of some of their larger titles. They've since restructured divisional leadership and returned focus to their legacy of small indie games. Lower currency volatility and private deal activity resulted in challenging conditions for Alpha Group and Argentex, issues at the latter were compounded by significant management changes.

During the quarter, we took the difficult decision to sell our relatively new position in Argentex, following the resignation of both the CEO and CFO. We initiated positions in Jet2 and insolvency practitioner, Begbies Traynor.

Performance is provided net of fees. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results and may not be repeated.

The benchmark from inception to 30.06.2020 was the FTSE AIM All Share Index. From 01.07.2020 the benchmark changed to the Numis Alternative Markets (inc Investment Companies) Index. ARC IHT Portfolio Indices ("AIP") are based on historical information and past performance is not indicative of future performance. 'S&P's composite performance is measured by the average of all AIM clients weighted by portfolio size whereas ARC's calculation is composed of an average of all AIM clients not weighted by size of portfolio. This difference in methodology could lead to slight discrepancies.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This document is intended for professional investors only. Not for onward distribution.

This document has been issued by Sarasin & Partners LLP of Juxon House, 100 St Paul's Churchyard, London, EC4M 8BU, a limited liability partnership registered in England and Wales with registered number OC329859, and which is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority with firm reference number 475111. This document has been prepared for marketing and information purposes only and is not a solicitation, or an offer to buy or sell any security. The information on which the material is based has been obtained in good faith, from sources that we believe to be reliable, but we have not independently verified such information and we make no representation or warranty, express or implied, as to its accuracy. All expressions of opinion are subject to change without notice. This document should not be relied on for accounting, legal or tax advice, or investment recommendations. Reliance should not be placed on the views and information in this material when taking individual investment and/or strategic decisions.

The AIM portfolio service should be regarded as a higher risk, long-term investment and it may not be suitable for all investors. You should obtain independent professional advice before you ask Sarasin & Partners LLP to manage your AIM Portfolio.

The investments that will be held in the AIM Portfolio are likely to be smaller UK companies which may qualify for business relief after two years. Such investments will inevitably involve higher risk and may be difficult or even impossible to realise in a reasonable timescale or at an acceptable price. It may be difficult to obtain reliable information about their value or the extent of the risks to which they are exposed.

There is a degree of risk associated with using this service and it should be noted that investment in smaller companies such as those we anticipate holding in the AIM Portfolio has historically been more volatile than medium or large company investment. These risks include, but are not limited to, the loss of a key member of a company's management team and the fact that, due to the relatively thin trading market for many AIM stocks, it can be difficult to sell them at a fair price.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results and there is no guarantee that your AIM Portfolio's objective will be achieved. Forecasts are not a reliable indicator of future performance. We can make no guarantee either of investment performance or the level of capital gains or income that will be generated by your AIM portfolio. The value of qualifying investments and any income derived from them may go down as well as up and you may not get back the full amount you invested. Fluctuations in exchange rates can also affect the value of, and income from investments dominated in foreign currencies.

Please note that qualifying investments carry a higher degree of risk than investing in more liquid shares of larger companies. The share prices of AIM investments are generally more volatile than shares listed on the London Stock Exchange main market. The value of your investments may decline and there is a risk that this may outweigh any IHT saving. You should be aware that the qualifying investments in your AIM Portfolio may be classified under FCA Rules as 'not readily realisable'

Rates of tax, tax benefits and allowances are based on current legislation and HMRC practice. These may change and are not guaranteed. The AIM Portfolio service has been designed with UK-resident taxpayers in mind. If you are not resident or ordinarily resident in the UK for tax purposes, it may not be appropriate or advantageous for you to subscribe to the AIM Portfolio Service.

Qualifying investments in which we invest may cease to qualify for inheritance tax (IHT) exemption. In this case, the relief available on that particular investment will be lost. Investments in particular companies are likely to be sold if Sarasin & Partners LLP believes that the investment rationale outweighs the tax benefits associated with retaining the holding. This may give rise to a capital gains tax charge. If the investment was qualifying at the time of sale and a new qualifying investment is acquired with the proceeds of sale, the two-year holding period can be satisfied by combining these periods of ownership. If not, the relief available on that particular investment will be lost and the two-year holding period will begin afresh.
